In-depth Winger

Player Summary:

Thorvaldsen is a versatile right-footed winger who can play on both sides, but is most natural from the left. He is not especially strong physically, but his pace, acceleration and intensity are at a very high level. He is a direct winger who looks to threaten the opposition goal, while his high pressing is one of his standout qualities.

Dribbling:

B

Dribbling – Description:

He instigates 1v1 situations and wins many of them through his very good acceleration. He likes to cut inside, but can also attack the outside when space is available. His ball control at high speed is also very good.

Runs in Behind:

C

Runs in Behind – Description:

He makes some runs in behind the defensive line and often positions himself close to the offside line. However, he also likes to receive the ball to feet, and his depth runs are not frequent enough to be considered a clear strength. This variety makes him somewhat unpredictable, but his runs in behind are more average than standout.

Link-Up Play:

Link-Up Play – Description:

He is good in link-up play, as he likes to combine with teammates and make movements after passing the ball. He is secure in possession and often looks to support the next action through pass-and-move combinations. His link-up play is not extremely creative, but it is positive and useful for maintaining tempo.

Final Pass:

C

Final Pass – Description:

He shows some quality in his final pass, especially with short through passes and passes to feet. His crossing can be good when he attempts it, but he does not cross very frequently. Overall, he has the ability to find teammates in useful areas, but his final pass is not a consistent standout part of his game.

Goalscoring Ability:

Goalscoring Ability – Description :

He shows good goalscoring potential for a winger, with a solid goal output over the last two seasons. He looks to shoot often and can generate power in his shots, although his accuracy and ball-striking consistency can still improve. Overall, his goal threat is positive, but he is not yet a consistently clinical finisher.

High Pressing:

A

High Pressing – Description :

He presses with very good intensity and consistency, especially when the opponent is building from a low block. He also shows strong endurance, allowing him to repeat pressing actions over long periods.

Defending in Own Half:

D

Defending in Own Half – Description :

His defending in his own half is a weakness. He shows effort to recover into the defensive shape, but he struggles in defensive 1v1 situations and can be beaten too easily by his direct opponent. Overall, his work rate is positive, but his individual defending in his own half needs clear improvement.

Recommend to Sign?:

Yes

Recommendation Description:

Thorvaldsen should be prioritised as the preferred signing for Djurgården. He is good enough to start or compete for a starting position immediately, while also offering strong future resale value. His pace, acceleration, direct 1v1 threat, goal threat and high pressing intensity make him a strong fit for the winger profile required by the club. He is also comfortable playing on both wings, which is important for Djurgården given the need for flexibility on the left and right side. Kolarik also has strong qualities, especially his technique, physicality and finishing ability, but Thorvaldsen is the better overall fit due to his directness, athletic profile, pressing intensity and versatility.
